

EXPLODING CANONS

VIOLINS OF HOPE, Courage and Music

UNC Charlotte Center City

320 E. 9th Street, Uptown Charlotte

Monday,
April 16, 2012
5:15-8:30pm

5:15 Opening Reception
Center City Atrium

6:00 Interdisciplinary
Panel Discussion
Center City Auditorium

7:30 Violins of Hope exhibition viewing
Center City Gallery

Master Violinmaker Amnon Weinstein and his wife Assi Bielski Weinstein will be honored guests and will provide the opening welcome.

This event is free and open to the public. Please register at www.charlotteteachers.org

Discussion Topics:

Moderated by Ken Lambla, Dean, College of Arts + Architecture, UNC Charlotte

Strings + Wood = Violin?

Dan Boye,
Professor of Physics,
Davidson College

Music: A Human Response

Rebecca Engen,
Associate Professor and Director of Music Therapy,
Queens University of Charlotte

The Violins of Hope in the Holocaust

Jay Grymes,
Associate Professor of Musicology,
UNC Charlotte

With Performances by Jennifer Frisina, Orchestra Director, Randolph IB & Alexander Graham Middle Schools
Leigh Marsh, Orchestra Director, South Mecklenburg High & Quail Hollow Middle Schools

Event Sponsors

Community Partners

CTI Supporters

YALE NATIONAL INITIATIVE

